The Bishop of Rochester, Dean of Westminster and Dean of the Order, carrying in his Right Hand the Form of the Oath and Admonition.

His Royal Highness Prince Frederick Bishop of Osnaburg, First and Principal Knight Companion, in the full Habit of the Order as Great Master.

Twelve Yeomen of the Guards closed the Procession.

The Staff-Men entered the Chapel, and placed themselves Three on each Side of King Henry the Seventh's Chapel in the Recesses of the Windows.

The Drums, Kettle-Drums and Trumpets divided at the Doors of the Chapel, and formed a Passage on the Outside.

The Alms-Men entered the Chapel, and having made joint Reverences, first to the Altar, and then to the Sovereign's Stall, passed Six on each Side of King Henry the Seventh's Tomb, to the Recesses of the Windows.

The Messenger, with like Reverences, placed himself between the Altar and the Stall of the Junior Knight.

The Esquires made like Reverences together in the Middle of the Choir, and stood before their respective Seats.

The Prebendaries, after like Reverences, went within the Rails of the Altar.

The Officers of Arms made like Reverences together in the Middle of the Choir, and stood near the Foot of the Prince's Stall.

The Proxies, Knights Elect, and Knights Companions, made their double Reverences singly or in Pairs, according to the Method observed in the Procession, and retired under their respective Banners, the Knights Companions being covered.

The Register, Secretary and Usher, made their double Reverences in the Middle of the Choir, and stood before their Bench at the Foot of the Sovereign's Stall.

Garter, Genealogist, and Bath, did the same, and stood before their Bench.

The Dean did the same, and stood before his Chair.

His Royal Highness Prince Frederick, Great Master, having made his double Reverences, stood under his Banner covered.

The Doors of the Chapel were then closed, and the Yeomen remained on the Outside.

The Anthem being ended, Bath King of Arms made his double Reverences in the Middle of the Choir, and then bowed to his Royal Highness Prince Frederick, who thereupon made his double Reverences under his Banner, ascended into his Stall, repeated his Reverences, and sat down covered.

Bag:

Bath then bowed to Sir George Pocock, (singly, his Companion not being present) who thereupon made his double Reverences, ascended into his Stall, repeated his Reverences, and sat down covered.

Bath then bowed to Lord Amherst and Sir John Griffin Griffin, Companions, who made their double Reverences, ascended their Stalls, repeated their Reverences, and sat down covered.

In this Manner all the Knights Companions took their Stalls, except the Two Juniors, Sir William Lynch and Sir Charles Thompson, who remained under their Banner to offer the Achievements of the deceased Knights.

The Knights Elect and Proxies also remained under their Banners.

Then Bath, taking up the Banner of the late Earl of Inchiquin, Senior deceased Knight, proceeded to the Middle of the Choir, where being joined by Clarenceux King of Arms, and Richmond Herald acting for Norroy King of Arms, making their double Reverences, he bowed to his Royal Highness Prince Frederick as Grand Master.

His Royal Highness thereupon descended from his Stall, and making his double Reverences received the Banner from Bath, and being supported by Clarenceux and Richmond carried it with the Point forwards to the Altar, where with one Reverence he delivered it to the Prebendaries; and on the Return, making double Reverences in the Middle of the Choir, was reconducted to his Stall by Clarenceux and Richmond; and his Royal Highness sat down covered.—The Organ and other Instruments accompanied this Part of the Ceremony with the Dead March in the Oratorio of Saul.

Bath then took up the Banner of the late Viscount Fitzwilliam, the next Senior deceased Knight; and, standing between the Door of the Chapel and the Middle of the Choir, bowed to the Two Junior Knights Companions, who, making their double Reverences, received the Banner from Bath, and, being preceded by Two Heralds, carried it between them to the Altar, delivered it to the Prebendaries, and making the usual Reverences returned to Bath.

The Banners of all the other deceased Knights, viz. Sir Thomas Whitmore, the Earl of Mexborough, Lord Onslow, Lord Carysfort, Sir James Grey, Sir William Beauchamp Proctor, Sir John Gibbons, Sir Charles Saunders, Lord Clive, Sir John Moore, and Sir Charles Monagu, were offered in like Manner by the Two Junior Knights Companions, preceded by Two Heralds; which being done, they ascended into their Stalls, making the usual Reverences and sat down covered.

Then Bath bowed to Sir Hew Dalrymple, Proxy for Sir James Adolphus Oughton, Senior Knight Elect, who thereupon made his double Reverences, ascended into his Stall, and stood therein, holding his Hat in his Hand.

Then Bath bowed to Sir Robert Gunning and Sir George Howard, who made their double Reverences together, ascended to their Stalls, and stood therein with their Hats and Feathers in their Hands.

In this Manner all the Knights Elect and Proxies ascended to their Stalls.

Then Bath, carrying the Book of the Statutes and the Great Collar of the Order on a Cushion, having the Usher on his Left Hand, and being followed by the Dean, proceeded to the Middle of the Choir, where they made their Reverences together.

His Royal Highness Prince Frederick then made his double Reverences, descended from his Stall, and, being followed by the Dean, entered into that of Sir James Adolphus Oughton, where receiving the Book of the Statutes from Bath, his Royal Highness presented it to Sir Hew Dalrymple, Proxy for Sir James, and the Dean administered the Oath; his Royal Highness then placed him in the Seat of his Principal, whereupon he rose up, and made his double Reverences; then his Royal Highness, having saluted him, returned with Bath, the Usher and Dean, to the Middle of the Choir, and the Proxy sat down uncovered.

His Royal Highness next proceeded to the Stall of Sir Robert Gunning, and receiving the Book of the Statutes from Bath, presented it to the Knight, and the Dean administered the Oath; then the Collar being delivered to his Royal Highness, he invested the Knight therewith, put the Hat and Feathers on his Head, and placed him in his Seat, who thereupon rising up, and making his Reverences, his Royal Highness saluted him, and then returned as before to the Middle of the Choir, and the Knight sat down covered.

All the Knights and Proxies having been installed in this Manner, his Royal Highness returned to his Stall, where making his Reverences, he sat down covered.

The Officers then returned to their Seats, and the Sanctus being sung, the Dean was conducted to the Altar by the Usher. During Divine Service the Knights put their Hats and Feathers on the Cushions before them.

Upon the Sentence of the Offertory, "Let your Light so shine, &c." Bath proceeded to the Middle of the Choir, and made his double Reverences; then bowing to the Earl of Antrim, and Sir George Munro, Proxy for Sir Hector Munro, his Lordship put on his Hat and Feather. (the Proxy remaining uncovered) and both making their double Reverences together, descended into the Middle of the Choir, repeated their Reverences, and withdrew under their Banners.

In this Manner all the Knights were summoned, descended from their Stalls, and stood under their Banners.

The Two Provincial Kings of Arms then making their Reverences, waited on his Royal Highness Prince Frederick, who, going from under his Banner, made a Reverence towards the Altar, (but not to the Sovereign's Stall) and another Reverence at the Altar, where, taking off his Hat and kneeling down, he made his Offering of Gold and Silver; then rising up and putting on his Hat, he returned, making his double Reverences as he passed to his Stall; wherein he repeated the like Reverences, and sat down, placing his Hat on the Cushion before him.

The Rest of the Knights and Proxies, singly or with their Companions, were in like Manner conducted to the Altar by the Heralds, and, after making their Offerings, returned with the like Reverences to their Stalls.

Divine Service being ended, the Knights put on their Hats and Feathers, but the Proxies remained uncovered, and Bath summoned them as before under their Banners, and the Knights and Proxies then installed, singly or with their Companions, were conducted by Two Heralds to the Altar, as at the first Offering, where each Knight standing and drawing his Sword, presented it to the Dean, who received it, and laid it on the Altar. The Knight then redeemed it of the Dean, who restored it with the proper Admonition, according to the Oath; which done, they returned under their Banners, and the Coronation Anthem, GOD SAVE THE KING, being sung;

A Procession was then made back to the Prince's Chamber in the same Order it came from thence, except that the Prebendaries retired to the Jerusalem Chamber from the Abbey Door, and the Esquires and Officers of Arms and Officers of the Order, when they came out of the Church, were covered.

Without the Door of the Abbey, the King's Master Cook made the usual Admonition to each Companion.

At the Door of the Prince's Chamber, a Person was appointed by Bath, to receive the Mantles from the Proxies.

At Night there was a most magnificent Ball and Supper at the Opera-House in the Haymarket, at the Expence of the new Knights; at which the Foreign

Foreign Ministers, a great Number of the Nobility, as well as of Persons of Distinction of both Sexes, were present; and nothing could exceed the abundant Variety, Splendor, and Elegance, of the Entertainment; the beautiful Disposition of the Illuminations; and the remarkable Order and Propriety with which the Whole was conducted.
